

Hello to you all!!

I have settled down in our school again for a short period of time. It is always a very happy and exuberant meeting again on coming back. It is a little corner of the world where the children and their teachers live together happily and satisfied.

At this moment the children are at home with their families for a short holiday. The school is quiet and empty. It is extremely peaceful and still everywhere.

I often sit outside and take it all in:
...the murmur of the river in the distance...
...the moving of the prayer flags in the wind...
...the sound of the roosters outside a nearby house...
...the vast openness of the clear blue sky above and all around...
...the timeless mountains surrounding me...
...the thick green of the woods...
...the simplicity of life here in the village, everything still in its very natural rhythm...no hurry...no excess... and far away from the complexity of the modern world...
...everything just is...

And this is the richness of this beautiful corner of the World: simplicity, naturalness, harmony, authenticity, quietness...

Soon the school will be filled again with the sounds and the presence of the children: their laughs, their joy...how beautiful!!
Wishing you lots of quiet, satisfaction and contentment!!
